Phillips, the Fine Art Auctioneers of London, England, have been selling musical instruments at auction since 1796. Fine instruments are a tradition at Phillips. Monthly sales are held at which overseas buyers and vendors form a large proportion of clients. Our monthly sales include old and modern string, wind, and ethnographical instruments, bows, reference books and dictionaries. Edward Stollar, the highly experienced specialist in charge of the department of musical instruments at Phillips, will be pleased to answer all your enquiries concerning sales and catalogues and to advise on all aspects of selling or buying.

We have been selling musical instruments for over 125 years and are the largest retail outlet in the world specializing in early musical instruments.

Our mail order service is world-wide and known throughout the early music world for prompt and efficient service. Ninety percent of our business is with overseas customers.

We will be glad to advise you on any matter relating to early musical instruments. If we cannot answer your enquiry ourselves we can probably put you in touch with some-one in the early music field who can.

We can supply you with anything from a 'Wood' Brussels crumhorn (illustrated) to a lute kit by Ian Harwood & John Isaacs or a Zuckermann harpsichord. We have thousands of instruments and in addition a well stocked, specialist early sheet music department.

EARLY MUSIC

A QUARTERLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO
MEDIEVAL, RENAISSANCE AND BAROQUE MUSIC

Now entering its fourth year, Early Music has captured a world-wide audience of amateurs and professionals, performers and scholars interested in pre-classical music.

In addition to the main articles, Early Music contains regular features on instruments and activities, a saleroom guide, book, music and record reviews, a correspondence column and a music supplement edited by Howard Mayer Brown. Early Music also provides an international register of players and instrument makers to which any reader may belong.

The American Musical Instrument Society

The American Musical Instrument Society (AMIS) is an international organization founded in 1971 to promote study of the history, design, and use of musical instruments in all cultures and from all periods.

ACTIVITIES: AMIS holds an annual meeting with symposia, papers, and performances of interest to the membership. Meetings have been held at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.; The Boston Museum of Fine Arts; The University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; and New York University.

PUBLICATIONS AND PROJECTS: AMIS publishes the scholarly Journal comprising an annual number and three annual Newsletters providing the membership with information on worldwide activities, book lists and comments, and general short articles of interest to museum curators, collectors, performers, and others interested in musical instruments. A current project of the Society is the compilation of a Directory of Contemporary American Musical Instrument Makers.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership in AMIS is open to both individuals and institutions upon payment of the annual dues of $12.50. Members receive the Journal and the Newsletter, as well as all mailings relative to activities of the Society. Checks, or bank drafts, payable in U.S. dollars, should be made out to the American Musical Instrument Society, Inc., and, together with a membership application, sent to the Treasurer: Ms. Linda Tauber, P.O. Box 4147, Shreveport, Louisiana 71104.
