The American Musical Instrument Society (AMIS), Inc., is an international organization founded in 1971 to promote the study of the history, design, and use of musical instruments in all cultures and from all periods.

ACTIVITIES AMIS holds annual meetings with symposia, papers, and performances of interest to members. Meetings have been held at the Smithsonian Institution; the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston; the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; New York University; the University of South Dakota; Salem College, Salem, N.C.; Yale University; the University of Chicago; and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

PUBLICATIONS AMIS publishes the annual scholarly Journal and the Newsletter, issued three times annually, which provides the membership with information on worldwide activities, book lists and comments, and short articles of general interest.

MEMBERSHIP Membership in AMIS is open to both individuals and institutions. Dues are $18.00 annually (including institutions); dues for student membership are $10.00. All members receive the Journal and the Newsletter, as well as all mailings concerning the activities and organization of the Society. Checks, or bank drafts, payable in U.S. dollars to the American Musical Instrument Society, Inc., should be sent (along with a membership application for initial membership) to the AMIS Membership Office, USD Box 194, Vermillion, SD 57069.

2500 HISTORICAL WOODWIND INSTRUMENTS

An Inventory of the Major Collections

By Phillip T. Young

This catalogue of musical instruments made by 120-odd makers of the 16th through the 19th centuries contains information on many heretofore unknown or unreported examples. Phillip T. Young, member of the Board of Governors of the American Musical Instrument Society and author of the forthcoming Vancouver Centennial Museum Instrument Exhibition Catalogue (1980), has personally inspected more than three-quarters of these instruments in major museums as well as in private collections so small that they do not appear in even the most recent directories.

The combination of his two short inventories (The Galpin Society Journal, 1967, 1978), intensified research, reader contributions, and the incorporation of other less-complete listings has enabled Prof. Young to compile a research tool that is unequalled in thoroughness and the majority of which has not been previously available. Also included are a number of photographs of instruments of special interest, making this a beautiful as well as valuable volume.

Pendragon Press will publish this important book in late 1980 in hard-cover edition, price and availability to follow and catalogue upon request.

THE BASSOON

Its History, Construction, Makers, Players and Music

by
WILL JANSEN

c2700pp., with 700 photographs and appr. 150 technical drawings in the text. With 2 indexes; bibliography of over 7500 entries; discography of over 6000 records. The complete book is to appear in 14 issues, of which 6 issues have been published up till now.

Price during publication, per issue (postage & handling extra)	Dfl 55,-
and for 3 binding cases	Dfl 75,-
Subscription & prepayment per complete set (free of charge)	Dfl 770,-
3 binding cases by prepayment	Dfl 60,-
After completion (1980): 3 volumes clothbound	Dfl 975,-

Detailed leaflet and subscription form sent on application.

The complete book contains an almost encyclopaedic amount of data (of which many unpublished) about the Bassoon and Contrabassoon, and unique illustrative material: of the 700 illustrations only a few were published before; many are photographs and line drawings made by the author himself. There is much that is completely new, e.g., the complete story of Carl Almenraeder, pioneer of our present-day German type Bassoon; the story of the Heckel family; etc.

MEMLING PORTATIVE ORGAN

The result of a collaboration between several renowned performers, organ builders and technicians, this instrument has been designed to fill the need for an intelligently conceived, reasonably priced and easily maintained portative. The Memling Portative is fashioned to resemble in size, scaling and appearance the portatives depicted by the 15th century Flemish painter Hans Memling, whose representations of musical instruments were unmatched for detail and consistency.

FEATURING:

- Range of 26 notes, from e' to f²
- Metal pipes hand made to our design of historically correct alloy
- Leather covered bellows
- Historical type keyboard
- Light weight, easy portability, hard case included
- Prompt technical service available

Priced to be affordable to individuals, designed to withstand professional and institutional use
